1. Claims 1, 2, and 5-7 remain presented for examination.
2. The applicant should always use this period for response to thoroughly and very closely proof read and review the whole of the application for correct correlation between reference numerals in the textual portion of the Specification and Drawings along with any minor spelling errors, general typographical errors, accuracy, assurance of proper use for Trademarks TM, and other legal symbols [®], where required, and clarity of meaning in the Specification, Drawings, and specifically the claims (i.e., provide proper antecedent basis for “the” and “said” within each claim) with each claim ending in a period. Minor typographical errors could render a Patent unenforceable and so the applicant is strongly encouraged to aid in this endeavor.
3. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the applicant regards as the invention. The scope of meaning of the following claim language is not clear in claim 7 (line 12 and 16) which each have the same “first transfer mode”. Hence it cannot be clearly ascertained if line 16 should be “second transfer mode”.
4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Rodgers et al. (United States Patent Application Publications: US 2003/0028395 A1).

6. Prior to addressing the grounds of the rejections below, should this application ever be the subject of public review by third parties not so versed with the technology (i.e., access to IFW through Public PAIR (as found on <http://portal.uspto.gov/external/portal/pair>)), this Office action will usually refer an applicant's attention to relevant and helpful elements, figures, and/or text upon which the Office action relies to support the position taken. Thus, the following citations are neither all-inclusive nor all-exclusive in nature as the whole of the reference is cited and relied upon in this action as part of the substantial evidence of record. Also, no temporal order was claimed for the acts and/or functions.

7. Rodgers taught a content processing hardware apparatus (e.g., see Title, Abstract, and figure 6), comprising:

- a) a processor (e.g., see figure 6 (inside 180)) configured to control reproduction of a content (e.g., see figure 6 (inside 202));
- b) a display (e.g., see figure 6 (display of 180)) configured to display title information of contents stored in a content reproduction apparatus (e.g., see figure 6 (202)) connected to the content processing apparatus;
- c) a user input (e.g., see figure 6 (keyboard of 180)) configured to receive a selection of at least one of the contents stored in the content reproduction apparatus displayed on the display;
- d) the processor configured to determine a first transfer mode or a second transfer mode of the content based on mode setting information stored at the content processing apparatus (e.g., see paragraphs [0017], [0043], and 0045]);
- e) the processor configured to retrieve the content corresponding to the selection received at the input from the content reproduction apparatus and automatically delete the retrieved content from the content reproduction apparatus when the detected transfer mode is the first transfer mode (e.g., see paragraphs [0017], [0043], and 0045]); and
- f) the processor configured to retrieve the content corresponding to the selection received at the input from the content reproduction apparatus while maintaining a copy of the retrieved content at the content reproduction apparatus when the detected transfer mode is the first transfer mode (e.g., see paragraphs [0017], [0043], and 0045]).

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

9. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
